

lecture.

peer critique

You develop creative, artistic and technical sensibilities seated in culture and context.

Students' viewpoint. "When I started out, my seniors warned me that the course would be very hectic. However, despite the challenging and time-consuming work and being stuck in the studio for extended periods, I've enjoyed every single moment of the course as the comprehensive curriculum offers a great balance between creative, artistic and technical elements required of a professional architect. The exchange programmes were also very useful as they allowed me the valuable experience of hands-on experiential learning while improving my people skills and adapting what I've learnt in different contexts."

- Sim Jie Han, Year 5 Architecture student architecture.

bringing life to design

School of Design and Environment
4 Architecture Drive
Singapore 117566

Tel: (65) 6516 3454
Fax: (65) 6779 3078
Email: akisec@nus.edu.sg
Website: www.arch.nus.edu.sg

Department of Architecture

